

He has been consistently using his Pulmicort Flexhaler 180 mcg twice daily for the past three months. Due to insurance coverage issues, he was switched from Flovent to Pulmicort Flexhaler, as Flovent was no longer covered. The Pulmicort Flexhaler was the only other option available on his insurance formulary. Recently, his asthma has worsened. He has needed oral steroids three times in the past two months. He experiences coughing most days and has difficulty sleeping at night because of it. He wheezes during most activities and uses his albuterol inhaler for relief.
